MyTest Process

Simplify and digitize the certification process with a collaborative, cloud-based solution.

Complete digitization of certification journeys.

Used by Fime Labs

Organize and manage the certification process with different stakeholders using an all-in-one process editor.

MyTest Process is a cloud-based certification process management tool that digitizes the entire end-to-end certification journey. It provides guided autonomy and a collaborative workspace for authorities, service providers, laboratories and customers to manage the test process.

The tool features a simple web-based interface that allows authorities to customize their certification flow and control the certification life cycle.

How it works.

- Develops, edits and sets process workflows.
- Manages workflows and validates the various steps of certification.
